

Darren “Dutch” Daulton – Philadelphia Phillies

Dutch was drafted by the Phillies in the 25th round of the 1980 MLB draft. He was an all-star with the AA Reading Phillies in 1983.

On September 25, 1983, Dutch made his major league debut for the Phillies. He became the Phillies' full time catcher in 1989.

Dutch caught Terry Mulholland's no-hitter on August 15, 1990.

Dutch's finest season came in 1992. That season, he led the National League in runs batted in with 109. Dutch also finished in the top 10 in on base percentage, slugging percentage, OPS, home runs, walks, runs created, and extra base hits. His impressive season earned him his first all-star appearance, the National League Silver Slugger award, and sixth place in National League MVP voting.

Dutch was one of the catalysts of the NL pennant winning 1993 Phillies. He was again named an all-star, drove in more than 100 runs for the second consecutive season, and finished seventh in National League MVP voting. Dutch once again finished in the top 10 in on base percentage, runs batted in, walks, and extra base hits. He also finished in the top 10 in times on base and intentional walks.

Achievements:

14 seasons – Phillies / Marlins – Batting Average .245, 137 Home Runs, 588 RBI, 511 Runs

Post Season - Phillies / Marlins – Batting Average .245, 137 Home Runs, 588 RBI, 511 Runs

Ranked in Top 25 Catchers of All Time

National League Catcher Silver Slugger Award – 1992

National League Comeback Player of the Year – 1997

3 Time National League All-Star

Philadelphia Baseball Wall of Fame – 2010

2 World Series Appearances

1 World Series Championship